Brief Bio

Dr. Zhong-Ren Peng is Professor and Chair of the Department of Urban and Regional Planning at the University of Florida, Gainesville, FL, USA, and Cheung Kong Chair Professor of the College of Transportation Engineering at Tongji University, Shanghai, P.R. China. His major research interests are in the areas of transportation planning, intelligent transportation systems, and geographic information science. Dr. Peng has worked as a principal investigator or Co-PI on numerous research projects. Funding for his research, in excess of four million dollars, has been provided by the National Science Foundation (NSF), the Federal Transit Administration, Federal Geographic Data Committee, and the Wisconsin and Florida Departments of Transportation (DOT). Dr. Peng has published over 30 peer-reviewed articles in academic journals and is the principle author of the book "Internet GIS: Distributed geographic information services for the Internet and wireless networks" (Co-author Ming Hsiang Tsou) which was published in March 2003 by Wiley & Sons.